GOPHERCIDE

Certainly Does 'Get' Gophers

Gophercide is different from any other gopher poison ever offered—and better. Its three great advantages are:
It is easy to prepare. Gophers eat it readily. IT IS SURE TO KILL.

The proper time to put out gopher poison is just as soon as the gophers come out in the spring, because they eat it more readily before other food gets more plentiful. You have also less gophers to kill than if you leave it until later in the season.

What Happened To Jones

The Bentley Amateur Dramatic Society sustained their high reputation as entertainers when they presented "What Happened to Jones" on Thursday and Friday evenings last. On Thursday evening the McPherson Hall was crowded to the doors, while on Friday evening the house was sold out before the hour advertised to open, and fifty or sixty residents of the district who sought admission had to be turned away. It is the intention of the Society to present the play again for the benefit of those who could not be accommodated.

"What Happened to Jones" is a farce comedy of the highest order, and when presented in the able manner peculiar to the Bentley artists, resulted in the audience being kept convulsed with laughter from the rise of the curtain to the final act.

Frank Thorp impersonated Jones, a rather sporty young man who travelled for a hymn-book house and carried a line of playing cards on the side, had the heavy part, and took it to perfection. When circumstances made it necessary that he assume the role of "Bishop of Ballarat," he appeared quite at home, and made it rather warm for the real Bishop when he arrived on the scene. In every stage of the game, however, Jones was lucky, and the great interest the young ladies of the cast took in him was a source of great anxiety to all concerned.

Prof. Goodley, who in the interests of science was induced to attend an illegal prize fight, was interpreted by Bert Thorp, who left nothing to be desired. He made an ideal hen-pecked husband, and his efforts to keep his family from knowledge of his slip from the path of rectitude, got him into many peculiar predicaments.

E. St. J. O'Neill was right at home as "The Bishop of Ballarat," and it would be hard to find an actor who can assume the clerical role better than he. He has certainly missed his calling, and could easily fill a pulpit with credit. Bentley, however, is well supplied with churches at present, but it might be well for Mr. O'Neill to watch for an opportunity. Mrs. Gus. Veetkind (Mrs. J. B. Veetkind) was, as usual, quite at home, and the way in which she made the poor Professor stand around should prove a valuable example to the brides of the Bentley district.

The Professor's daughter, "Marjorie" (Miss Vera McPherson) who has an ideal lover with no bad habits, and who is fond of poetry and romance, could not be improved upon, her acting being true to life, and the little love scenes were well carried out.

Miss Alice McPherson, in the role of "Cissy," a ward of the Professor, was the other extreme to "Marjorie," and was a regular twenty-first century young lady, to whom the tango would have no terrors, and who was fond of a good time. She delighted in shocking the precise guardians, and the little scenes between "Jones" and herself were a feature of the entertainment.

"Helma," a Swedish maid, was good. She was up-to-date, and could become blind to any happening if the price was high enough. But she got "cold feet" at last and "jumped her job."

Miss Bessie Garries impersonated "Alvina Starlight," a romantic old maid who was in love with the Bishop of Ballarat, and left nothing to be desired. She interpreted this very hard part with great ability, and the love scenes were the signal for roars of laughter.

John Damron made a splendid sleuth, and would be a valuable acquisition to the Lacombe police force. He certainly had all the symptoms of an up-to-date police officer.

Clarence Damron should be instructor of war dances on the Hobbema Reserve. He, as an Indian, has anything beaten we have ever seen, even the real aborigine. His interpretation of the escaped lunatic, who imagined himself a great Indian Chief, was good, and his determination to steal all the females around the place made the ladies very uneasy. When the keeper, J. W. Grant, captured him, he was quite peaceable, however.

Harold Veetkind, who was Marjorie's suitor, was not quite such a model young man as his doting lover supposed. He was the cause of all the Professor's troubles, having enticed him to the prize fight, but, lover like, Marjorie was blind to his defects.

Taking the cast as a whole, it is a very high-class professional troupe that can put on a better performance, and an effort should be made to have the Society repeat the performance in Lacombe. A full house will greet them should they decide to come.

The plot of "What Happened to Jones" is good. The trouble commences with the finding of a ticket for an illegal prize fight by the Professor. The ticket belonged to Marjorie's good young lover, who prevailed upon the Professor to attend the fight in the interests of science. Unfortunately the place is raided by the police, and the Professor escapes by falling down a water pipe and receives a black eye. Followed by the police, he manages to escape and reach home safely. "Jones" also was at the fight, and on escaping from the scene, has a scrap with a policeman. "Jones" also takes refuge in the Professor's home. The Professor expects a visit from his brother, the Bishop of Ballarat, and the Bishop, anticipating his need of a new clerical suit, has ordered one sent to his brother's home. The police in the meantime have discovered a clue to the hiding place of the fugitives from the prize fight, especially "Jones," who is wanted for assaulting a police officer, and attempt to enter the Professor's home. They are kept at bay by a ferocious watchdog, and while the dog is being subdued, "Jones" discovers the new suit of the Bishop and dons the same, and when the police finally enter the house there are no signs of the escaped sports. The Professor's wife, Marjorie, and the rest of the female inmates of the Professor's home take "Jones" for the real Bishop, and the great amount of hugging and kissing he receives makes the Professor and Marjorie's lover very jealous, although they can say nothing. "Cissy" finds the Bishop real nice, and it is not long before she suspects something, but does not give him away. Then the real Bishop appears on the scene and is taken in hand by "Jones," who poses to him as the Dean of Honolulu, and the trouble he makes for him is awful. The appearance of an escaped lunatic, who imagines he is an Indian, does not make things any better. The Bishop having sent his old suit out to be pressed, clothes himself in a blanket, and the lunatic seeing him thus attired imagines that he is another Indian chief, and makes him dance the war dance. Things go on from bad to worse, until in the last act "Jones" makes a full confession and matters are straightened out. But it is useless to attempt to describe the play in type—it must be seen to be appreciated. Every member of the cast was good; they went through the entire three acts like professionals.

Miss Lord, of F. E. McLeod's, returned this week from a two month's visit to friends down by the Atlantic, and is in her accustomed place in the office of the "Store of Better Values." She reports a most enjoyable visit.

The Tango was demonstrated here on Monday night at the Coniet Theatre, and we were not shocked. In fact, although many of us went to the exhibition with the determination to have blushes brought to our manly cheeks, there was nothing doing, and all we saw was a most graceful demonstration of the Terpsichorean art. The Tango as danced by Miss Nethersole and Mr. Fenley is a beautiful and graceful dance, which, however will never become popular among the present generation owing to the fact that it is a very difficult one to learn, and unless gone through gracefully would appear most ridiculous. The Tango should be learned in early childhood—just as one receives an education. The One-Step, commonly known as the "rag," and which has on occasions been attempted in Lacombe, is also a pretty dance, not at all like the bear walk we have seen attempted here. Danced as it was by the couple at the opera house, it is very pretty. It is a dance also that should not be attempted in public by amateurs. There was absolutely nothing suggestive in any of the different dances put on on Monday night, and if the Tango is as bad as we have been led to believe, we in Lacombe must be hardened sinners.

Mrs. S. M. Burger and family left on Wednesday for a visit to their home in the States. Mr. Burger will remain on the farm this summer.

R. and W. McKilligan, one mile from Bentley, will hold a sale of farm stock and implements on the 21st; see bills. C. F. Damron, auctioneer.

Rev. White left on Monday for Calgary to attend two meetings in connection with the work in Alberta. He will then go to Toronto and attend the Union Missionary Conference, which meets on the 17th inst. He will then take a much needed holiday, visiting relatives in Pennsylvania for a few weeks.

A social dance will be given in Boode's Hall on Friday night. The Rex Orchestra will furnish the music, which alone will be worth the price of admission. As the dancing season is nearing its close, this should be well attended. These dances have proved to be very popular during the past winter, and this will be no exception to the rule. Tickets, 50c.; ladies free.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. Puffer on Friday, March 13, at 3 o'clock. Miss Pierce will give a talk on "Life in South Africa." All members and friends of the Union are most cordially invited to be present. If the ladies will come prepared to pay their yearly affiliation dues, it will greatly assist the treasurer.

The case of Tegart vs. Bunch, an application to unseat Perry Bunch as councillor elect for L. I. D. 430, on the grounds that that gentleman had not been properly elected, was heard before Judge Lees on Wednesday last at Lacombe. After a large number of witnesses had been examined, His Lordship decided that the action was well taken, and declared the seat held by Bunch vacant, ordering Mr. Bunch to pay the costs of the action. Edwin H. Jones, barrister, Lacombe, appeared for Mr. Tegart, while Macdonald & McBride, barristers, looked after the interests of Mr. Bunch.

Mr. Jos. Barron, who has lived west of Blackfalds for the past twelve years, has sold his farm and moved to a smaller farm near Blackfalds, where in future he will reside. Before leaving the district in which he and his family had so long resided, they were on Saturday, 28th Feb., visited by a large number of their old neighbors and friends, who came prepared to make their departure an event long to be remembered with pleasure. A most enjoyable evening was spent with games of various kinds and music. Mr. and Mrs. Barron will be greatly missed by their old friends, and carry the best wishes of the whole community to their new home.

A new industry, the Lacombe Box Factory, is now in full working order, and from the amount of orders on hand and in prospect, will fill a long-felt want in this part of Alberta. The firm will manufacture butter boxes, egg cases, poultry crates and other containers, and guarantee a reliable article. They will also do custom chopping for farmers and others. They have a grinder with a capacity of two tons per hour, and farmers can rely upon having their chop ground while they wait. They have put the price of grinding down to the lowest possible price, eight cents per hundred pounds, and guarantee satisfaction. Another feature in connection with their chop mill is the provision of bins into which the farmer can unload direct from his wagon box. They are located right behind the elevator, across the track.

Winnipeg controllers are considering a proposal that a saloon or hotel-keeper who turns a drunken man onto the streets should be fined. It is not impossible that in Alberta this could be done without any amendment of the present license law. It is provided that "Any licensee who permits and suffers any drunken person to consume any intoxicating liquor on his premises shall be guilty of an offence, and on summary conviction thereof be liable to a penalty of not less than $25 nor more than $50, and in default of payment forthwith after conviction to not less than one or more than two months' imprisonment." When a man is found on the street in a pronouncedly, intoxicated condition it is a reasonable assumption that he was in a state of real drunkenness when supplied with his last glass of liquor, and that the licensee of the premises is liable under the quoted section of the ordinance.

HOCKEY

Calgary Vics won the Provincial championship on Friday night by defeating Lacombe.

In the first game of the series with Calgary, played here last Wednesday night, the locals, although putting up a strong game, were defeated by 1 goal. The ice was in very poor condition and did not allow of any combination work on either side, but it was plainly seen that the Vics had nothing on Lacombe. Calgary scored 3 in the first half, while the locals put one in the net. In the second half the Vics played a purely defensive game, but the locals succeeded in scoring 1, while Calgary did not succeed in getting one past Munn. The score at full time stood 3-2 in the Vics favor. Referee Beatty gave entire satisfaction, and judge of Play Rouleau had little to do. The attendance was over 800.

On Friday night the second game was played in Calgary, and the local fans were all excitement when the first message gave Lacombe 1 goal, which tied the series. However, a few minutes later the wires flashed the news that the Vics had scored, which gave them the lead by 1 goal. From that on there was no scoring on either side, and thus ended the game, 1-1.

The ice on this occasion was also in poor condition and made the playing hard, but Lacombe again demonstrated their ability to hold their own under any condition.

When it is taken into consideration that only seven goals were scored by the two teams in the series, it will be seen that the teams are pretty evenly matched, but on good fast ice we are of the opinion that Lacombe would have won the series, and we also think we still have the best hockey team in Alberta. The series closed with a score of 4-3 in Calgary's favor.

The locals deserve great credit for their showing this winter, and have provided the fans with a class of hockey that is hard to beat. They are all hard workers, and simply played the game for the sport they got out of it, and the appreciation of the residents of this district was shown by their attendance, which has been the largest of any town or city in Alberta. Next year will see some lively times in the hockey game.

The advertising that Lacombe has received from the hockey game has well repaid the residents for their patronage.

BASEBALL

Now that the hockey season is over, how about our baseball team? Last year the local nine made a good showing, and as there is plenty of material this year, a team that could win ought to be easily put on the diamond. The team last year was self-supporting, but this year there will be a little expense for to start. The boys are badly in need of uniforms, and some work on the ball park will be necessary. All the other towns in Alberta are already getting together, and there is an indication that there will be some fast teams in the game this year. Let those interested get together and make arrangements to put the team in the field just as soon as the weather permits. A trophy of some kind might also be put up to be played for, which would add enthusiasm to the game. Hold a meeting, elect your officers and make an early start. Remember the old saying—"An early start makes a good finish."

FOR LAUGHING PURPOSES.

"Is Marriage a Failure," which comes to the Comet Opera House next Wednesday, March 18, is said to be the greatest laugh producer seen here in the last two years, and the play is said to be the greatest antidote for the blues known to medical science.

CINDERELLA COMING TO LACOMBE.

In a few weeks Lacombe people will have another opportunity of seeing a real good children's play, gotten up under the auspices of the W. A. of St. Cyprian's Church. Last time it was "Sleeping Beauty," and received a splendid ovation. This time it is to be "Cinderella," and no effort will be spared in the attempt to make it at least as great a success as the other. The children are now being trained and a date will shortly be fixed for the staging of the play.

Farmers' Mutual

At the annual meeting of Lacombe Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company to be held on Saturday, the 14th inst., at 10.30 a.m., in the office of the Company in Lacombe, the auditor's report will be presented, the business of the Company to the present time thoroughly gone through and officers elected for the ensuing year. This, with other business items of minor importance, will be attended to on that day. Insurance keeps coming through the mail, as well as locally, farmers throughout the Province bein[illegible]ed in saving the money in which insurance companies usually pay in dividends to the stockholders, and before the next annual meeting of the Company is held, one year from now, there should be a great many more of our local farmers, as well as thousands throughout the Province, carrying insurance in their own Company and saving for themselves the profits which are making millionaires out of insurance magnates throughout the country.

The African Hunt Pictures

The Paul J. Rainey African Hunt Pictures represent the absolute high tide in the gradual rise of the moving picture idea of entertainment, and are shown at this theatre as the result of a year of effort and an expenditure of over a quarter million dollars. An expedition of 350 men spent a year in the depths of the African jungle and braved death from fever and wild beasts, in order that this wonderful entertainment might be presented in Lacombe. They will be seen here on Tuesday at the Comet Theatre. Mr. Rainey, who is a millionaire sportsman from Cleveland, Ohio, undertook the big game hunt at first merely from the point of sport, but he was the first African big game hunter to provide that the wonderful scenes he saw and the strange experiences he passed through should be preserved for the delectation of the public, through the medium of the motion picture, colored slide and lecturer. Accompanying his expedition was a large corps of expert photographers, and whenever there was a hunt to be undertaken or a dangerous trip into the jungle, these intrepid men of the camera and film were in the forefront. Do not miss this great event.

LIBERAL MAJORITY IN SENATE COMING DOWN

Ottawa, March 8.—Owing to the recent deaths of Sir George Ross and Senator Cox, both Liberals, the standing of the two parties in the upper house has been to some extent altered. The standing in the upper chamber at present is:—Liberals, 53; Conservatives, 32; vacancies, 2.

When the vacancies are filled, the Liberal majority will be 19. When the new senators from the west are appointed, he majority will be reduced to 10.

When Mr. Borden became premier, the complexion of the senate was:—Liberals, 66 Conservatives 19; vacancies, 2; the Liberal majority being 47. Mr. Borden filled the two vacancies with Conservatives, leaving the Liberal majority 45. During the past two years 17 senators have died, 13 of whom being Liberals and four Conservatives. With the two vacancies already mentioned, the Liberal majority has been reduced to 21. Their successors will make the majority 19. There are 33 members of the upper house over 70 years of age, 21 being Liberals and 12 Conservatives.

Ex-Premier Sir Mackenzie Bowell is the oldest man in parliament and is one of the most active. He is 91 years old. Two Quebec senators come next in age, Hon. G. C. Dessaulx, of St. Hyacinthe, who is 87 years of age, and Hon. L. J. Sheyn, of Quebec, who is 85.

One Hundred Lives Lost

St. Louis, March 9.—Fire early this morning was discovered bursting from the windows of the lower four storeys of the Missouri Athletic Club, at Fourth and Washington avenue. The fire drove scores of roomers at the club into the street in their night clothes. Many are accounted for.

At 1.30 a.m. every fire fighting machine in the city and every fireman was on the scene, but the blaze spread in all directions and was beyond the control of the firemen. The entire block bounded by 4th street, Broadway, Washington avenue, and Lucas avenue, probably will be destroyed.

Within a short time after the fire was discovered, the flames were shooting through the eight floors of the huge Missouri Athletic Club building. Of 135 roomers at the club, not more than 20 have been accounted for. The remaining men are believed to have been trapped on the floors above the fourth. If this proves true, not one of them will escape alive, as the entire building is now a mass of flames.

At 2.45 this morning the roof of the massive structure occupying half a city square caved in, carrying down with it several floors, and it is believed more than 100 are dead. Every available ambulance and police patrol wagon in the city has been called on.

A careful census of those who escaped from the building was taken by the police and an officer of the club, and not more than two dozen were accounted for. It is almost certain all the others were burned to death.

At 3 o'clock the bodies of seven men were found on the sidewalk where they had jumped from the fourth floor. One of these was identified as that of John Martin Rickey, of Chicago. At this hour the rear half of the building had caved in.

Follow the signboard to McPherson's Mill and get lumber at your own prices.

A DIFFICULT PROBLEM.

When Premier Borden talked of settling the problem of handing over their natural resources to the provinces in twenty-four hours, he was looking at the question from the standpoint of one on the outside. After three years' consideration he admits there are serious difficulties in the way. It will probably be necessary to have a conference of provincial premiers in order to arrive at a basis of agreement as between the provinces and the Dominion. Sectional differences in some cases and geographical peculiarities in others will add to the complexity of the problem.

It is gratifying, however, to know that the Premier acknowledges his unconditional pledge as binding and that he and his colleagues are to address themselves to the problem in the hope of reaching a solution without further unnecessary delay. The political parties seeing eye to eye concerning the underlying principle, a long delay should not be necessary.

Triple Gang with Horse-Lift

You Can Do 33⅓ Per Cent More Work

Think of a man increasing his efficiency 33⅓ per cent.
Think of actually doing 33⅓ per cent more work in a day than formerly.
Think of doing all this extra work simply by adding another horse to your team.
That is exactly what can be done with a John Deere Triple Gang. But that is not all. The work will be easier for both the man and the horse.
In these days, when it is difficult to get help, any implement that will enable you to do more work with less men is worth investigating.
Then think of the economy—the actual money saved.
Do you know of any other place on the farm where you can do 33⅓ per cent more work practically without increasing the expense?

GAINS 16, 24 TO 28 INCHES EVERY ROUND

The John Deere Triple Gang is made in two sizes, three 12-inch or three 14-inch plows, consequently, cuts either 36 or 42 inches.
Consider what it means to turn a strip of ground a yard or more wide—a clear gain from 24 to 28 inches every round over a two bottom gang plow of corresponding size.

Lacombe District News

Rainy Creek News

Mrs. G. W. M. Thompson is home again after a two weeks' visit with friends in Lacombe.

Last Tuesday evening about 40 of the neighbors gathered at the S. M. Burger home to bid farewell to the Burger family before their departure from the community. The evening was spent in an informal social way, all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Burger good luck and hoping they will return again to our midst.

Last Friday evening a "Hard Times" social was given by the Rainy Creek Dramatic Society. Quite a crowd was in attendance, and from the looks of some of the costumes one would think "hard times" had surely arrived in this neck of the woods. An impromptu program was given, and a "hard times" lunch was served, and all reported a good time.

Master Lawrence Stephenson is having the mumps.

A large crowd was in attendance at the sale of S. M. Burger on Monday last. Good prices were realized for most of the articles offered.

Mrs. S. M. Burger and children leave today (Wednesday) for Waterloo, Ia., to visit her daughter and other relatives.

Rimbey News

At last Saturday's meeting of the Literary Society, the north side entertained a crowded house with songs, duets, recitations and a good quartette, rendered by four of the leading citizens. The dialogues were much enjoyed and were entitled "The Re-union of Pete and Jane," and "Arabella's Poor Relations." Owing to the absence of speakers the debate was called off. The next meeting will be held on the 21st, when the north and south will render a program between them.

Leslieville Notes

R. O. Wright and crew have been compelled to return from the west for lack of snow.

Leslieville has created a reputation as a shipping point during the last few weeks. Over 30,000 ties have already been delivered here to be shipped to Lacombe for the Blindman Electric Railway, and the Valley Lumber Company are loading approximately a million feet of lumber at this point to be shipped to Nordegg for the Brazeau Collieries, Ltd.

Mr. A. R. Thomson and family returned recently from Vancouver, B.C., and will in future make their home here. Some members of the family were subject to very poor health in the coast city and the return to the former home was made in the hope that they would regain their former good health.

It is expected that Prairie Rose school will open for the term on Monday next.

Messrs. W. E. Gorrie and J. D. Skinner, of Rocky Mountain House, were most hospitably entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Reilly on Tuesday afternoon.

Rocky Mountain House News

Walter Scott, of Lacombe, was in the district last week paying a visit to his son, W. R. Scott, of Yeager & Scott.

The number of real estate transactions consummated within the last few days is a strong indication of public confidence. The opening of spring promises increased activity in real estate and business generally.

Negotiations are about completed whereby J. H. Bertrand takes over the major portion of the townsite. Mr. Bertrand and representatives of the company are now in Red Deer in connection with the transaction. This change will be much appreciated by the public and will surely be an improvement.

On Saturday morning last the Trimble-Garland Lumber Co. shipped over 120,000 feet of lumber from here to Lacombe. This lumber was cut at the McDougall & Martin mill north of here. Outside of an odd carload last summer, this is the first shipment of lumber from this point, but this industry is bound to grow and it will only be a matter of time until lumber will be shipped from here by the train load.

You judge a man not by what he promises to do, but by what he has done. That is the only true test. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judged by this standard has no superior. People everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. For sale by City Pharmacy. (2)

Ponoka News

The annual meeting of the Ponoka Liberal Association will be held in the Empress Theatre on Saturday, March 14th. Business in the afternoon, and a public meeting in the evening, when the Hon. Charles Stewart and the Hon. Wilfred Gariepy will speak.

A distinct loss to the community is felt in the demise of Mr. L. M. Haley, which occurred at his home on Thursday, February 26th. Mr. Haley, who was 68 years of age, leaves to mourn his loss a widow and two sons and one daughter. He was born in Ohio in 1846, and came to Alberta 19 years ago.

Enthusiasm and hard work were the order of the day on Wednesday and Thursday, as the men of Eureka and Concord districts turned out in force to work on the building of the Baptist church, situated between the two districts, and half mile straight north of Earlville post office. Over a dozen men turned out for the first day, and about half that number the second day, and the hammer and saw made sweet music as every one worked with a will.

FARMERS TAKE OVER FENCE WIRE PRODUCT.

Winnipeg, March 7.—A deal unique in its conception was completed on Wednesday when the Sarnia Fence Company agreed to turn over its entire western business to the Grain Growers' Co., which will pay an agreed price per ton for the output of the factory and will retail it among the members of the Grain Growers' Association of Manitoba and the United Farmers of Alberta, at a working margin above cost.

The agreement goes into effect within ten days. This is characterized by Vice President Lloyd Lott of the Sarnia Fence Co. as the first step in the evolution whereby farmers will ultimately control and own the producing sources of their mechanical necessities.

GERMAN SPIES ARE ARRESTED IN LONDON

London, March 7.—A remarkable story was told in the Bow street police court Wednesday afternoon in unfolding a case in which Frederick Adolphus Gould, cigar merchant, and his wife, Maud Gould, were charged with espionage. The woman was arrested at the Charing Cross station February 22nd as she was about to leave for Ostend. She had in her possession three envelopes containing important documents relating to the British navy. The man was arrested at his home in Wandsworth, where it is alleged other incriminating documents concerning the navy were found. Mrs. Gould denied all knowledge of the contents of the envelopes and her husband confirmed her.

Mr. Bodin, opening the case for the prosecution, said it was fairly clear that Gould, whose real name is believed to be Adolphe Frederich Schroeder, acted for a long time as a [illegible] country. One of the documents found gave a short history of Gould's life. He was born in Germany in 1854 and lived in England from 1858 to 1868. He then returned to Germany to complete his education. In 1870, when the Franco-Prussian war broke out, he joined the army, receiving the iron cross and a captaincy. Gould went to America in 1886 and again in 1900. Gould carried on correspondence with an individual at Brussels, supposed to be agent for foreign governments. One witness said Gould told him he was an agent of the German government. The prisoners were remanded.

EMPIRE TRADE MARK FAVORED.

London, March 7.—The project for an "Empire trade mark" received substantial support at a public meeting held here Tuesday, under the auspices of the British Empire League, though a number of Liberal and Labor politicians absented themselves, suspecting that the movement is purely in the interests of tariff reform.

The Duke of Argyle, who presided, said the main objects of the proposed trade mark are to provide a simple and definite means of identification of British manufactures and produce, to enable the public to support British labor and to prevent the sale of foreign goods as British, and also to develop an empire's trade as the surest means of promoting the closer union of the mother land and the dominions.

The Duke emphasized the fact that the meeting was non-political. "It was arranged," he said, "that representatives of each party should take part. E. G. Hemmerde, K. C., M. P., W. Crooks, M.P., and Sir Croyden Marks, M.P., should have spoken in favor of the proposal, but I have no doubt that they will be with us in the course of time."

F. E. Smith, K.C., moved a resolution in favor of the proposal and admitted opposition to the project of many large traders and certain chambers of commerce, but claimed that the overwhelming majority of smaller people who were after all most entitled to the consideration.

John Cockburn seconded the resolution and Hon. Thomas McKenzie, high commissioner of New Zealand, supported it.

THE MUTUAL HAIL INSURANCE COMPANY

The following facts with reference to the Farmers' Mutual Hail Insurance Company, of Iowa, which will operate in Alberta, with headquarters at Lacombe, will be of interest to the farmers of this district:

The Farmers' Mutual Hail Insurance Association of Iowa, the pioneer Hail Insurance Association of the State of Iowa, was organized by men who for twenty years or more have been leaders in mutual insurance and have saved the farmers of Iowa millions of dollars, among whom are Rutledge Bros and J. A. Benson, whose reputation as friends of mutual insurance is more than state wide, and who have for many successive annual meetings been re-elected as officers by the members of the Association.

It has paid $1,301,537.21 in losses to Iowa farmers in the past 21 years, and this is more than all the losses paid by all other hail insurance companies in Iowa put together. No other insurance company in Iowa can show a more economical management than the "Old Reliable" Farmers' Mutual Hail Insurance Association of Iowa. It has paid 70 per cent. of all money collected to the farmers for losses.

Every farmer should look up the record of this Association and place his insurance where he is assured of fair treatment in the event of loss by hail storm.

The "Old Reliable" Farmers' Mutual has a plan of insurance which enables it to settle losses in an equitable manner. If a member takes out a policy of $1,000 on a quarter section of land and he has 100 acres in crops, his crop is valued at $10 per acre, and in case of total loss by hail storm he will receive $1,000, but suppose the member should sustain only a partial loss, the adjustor would arrive at an agreement with the member as to what per cent. of the crop had been damaged; if 50 per cent., the member would receive $500, or 50 per cent. of his insurance. If only 20 acres had been damaged to the extent of say 50 per cent., $100; if 60 acres to the extent of three-fourths, then $450. It is very easy comparatively to arrive at an agreement as to what per cent of his insurance a member is entitled to, but it is very hard after a hail storm to agree with an adjuster how much the crop would have gone to the acre and what the crop was worth a bushel. This method of adjusting its losses has enabled the "Old Reliable" Farmers' Mutual to settle losses fairly, honorably and equitably, by this method a man may place $5.00 per acre insurance on his crop or $10.00 or $15.00 per acre, but the amount he placed upon it is considered the value of the crop. We do not deduct anything for harvesting, threshing on marketing, nor do we take into consideration the price of grain, but pay by the acre as above outlined. This makes adjustments easy and gives entire satisfaction. Every reputable farm paper in Iowa has spoken well of the "Old Reliable" Farmers' Mutual, and we are today without an equal in the amount of cash surplus per capita on hand.

The record of this Company is an open book, and the manager is proud of it. Some Hail Insurance Associations have run their business in such a way as to bring hail insurance in disrepute, but the "Old Reliable" Farmers' Mutual has the confidence and respect of the State Insurance Department, and it was Governor B. F. Carroll himself, who in the investigation of the methods of some hail insurance companies, while he was Auditor of State, turned to Secretary Rutledge, of the Farmers' Mutual, and said: "Mr. Rutledge, your hail insurance is all right." If any one doubts the standing of the "Old Reliable" Farmers' Mutual Hail Insurance Association of Iowa, let him write to the Auditor of State, Des Moines, Iowa.

BRITAIN'S BUDGET IS LARGEST IN HISTORY.

London, March 7.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer is busy preparing his budget and financial experts of newspapers are busy forecasting the nature of the budget and are assisted in their work by the government's publication of the estimates and expenditures. These were virtually completed Wednesday when the army estimates were circulated.

The indications are that the chancellor faces a budget of £200,000,000, the largest in the country's history.

The army requires only a half a million pounds more. This is to be devoted wholly to the aerial service development on which Colonel Seeley, the war minister, is as keen on land as Mr. Winston Churchill is on the water. The civil service requires an additional $7,500,000, and the post office $8,000,000 more.

The chancellor has benefited for six years by unexemplified prosperity. This is reported to be checked, but nevertheless Mr. Lloyd-George may be able to estimate some additional millions out of the growth of the existing means of taxation. But everything admits that new taxes are unavoidable and everybody is asking where the financial lightning will strike.

AN UNIQUE SURGICAL EXPERIMENT REPORTED

Chicago, March 7.—Dr. C. Frank Lyston announced Thursday night at the meeting of the Chicago Medical Association that he had successfully transplanted the generative gland of a dead person to the body of a living man. Dr. Lyston declared that when he had been unable to find a subject willing to undergo the operation he made the transplantation upon himself. An operation performed Jan. 16, 1914, he said, seemed to have been successful, and the gland, taken from a boy of 18, who had been dead for 17 hours, appeared to functionate like an innate gland.

Dr. Lyston said if the operation should prove permanent it may be a new remedy for Bright's disease, hardening the arteries and ailments due to premature senility.

The surgeon said he had been unable to find any record here or in Europe of such an operation ever before having been performed.

Dr. Lyston also said he had implanted in a woman of 59 years, the generative organs of a woman 17 years, who had been dead from violence 12 hours. This operation, he said, had been performed too recently for him to predict results. The wound, however, he declared was healing rapidly, and the operation gave every evidence of being successful.

The progress and results of the first operation Dr. Lyston said had been watched by Drs. R. D. MacArthur, W. B. Quine, J. B. Murphy, Carl Michael and others, of Chicago, and T. H. Townsend, of New York.

BIG ANNUAL TREK OF EASTERN FARMERS TO THE WEST BEGINS!

Winnipeg, March 7.—The annual home seekers' excursions from Eastern Canada started Thursday afternoon at three o'clock, when four carloads of "down East" farmers arrived at the Canadian Pacific depot from Toronto.

This marks the beginning of what might be called the legitimate "trek" into Western Canada from all quarters of the world, and the excursions will run until the last Thursday in October.

Eastern home seekers come from every point in Eastern Canada. They are gathered up at central points such as Toronto and Montreal, and sent west by the carload. Last year no less than 15,000 came to the country from other parts of Canada, and the C.P.R. officials expect to exceed this record this year.

AMERICAN RAILWAYS MUST RAISE RATES

Berlin, March 7.—A plain hint that American railway corporations must radically increase their freight rates if they expect to be able to float bond and stock issues in the European money markets, is contained in the annual report of the Deutche Bank.

Referring to the American railway situation, Arthur Von Gwynner, chief director of the bank, who co-operated with the late Henry Hillard in the re-organization of the Northern Pacific, and who is one of the greatest experts in Europe on American railway conditions, says: "American railways need higher freight rates. The present rates are the lowest in the world, representing, for instance, only a fraction of the English rates, and this in face of the fact that wages in the United States are fully twice as high as in Europe.

"This question is one of paramount importance for the economic welfare of the whole country, because the earning power of the gigantic American roads is pre-requisite for their obtaining urgently needed capital on which, in turn, depend the prosperity of important industries and opportunities for the employment of labor."

It is not generally known that preferential rates are important features of the German state railways administration. The so-called "privileged" freight rate amounts to over 66 per cent. of the total.

GIVES PRAISE TO PRESIDENT WILSON

London, March 6.—The Daily Graphic in an editorial this morning, praises President Wilson's message to Congress yesterday, urging the repeal of the clause of the Panama Canal Act, exempting from the payment of tolls American coastwise shipping.

"President Wilson yesterday offered the United States and the larger world outside," says the Graphic, "a singularly impressive illustration of the loftiness and correctness with which he interprets his duty as the chief magistrate of the republic. To do right and to do it loyally and generously without quibble or hesitation is a lesson that sadly wants teaching to the world of statesmanship, and President Wilson has taught it with admirable effect. Nor has he failed to emphasize the fact that in matters of this kind the highest honesty is also the largest wisdom."

Rimbey News

Mr. Sisty, of Spring Dale, was a business caller at Rimbey last Tuesday.

Ian Macdonald, of La Vesta, came in on the stage last Friday from a trip to Edmonton. He informed us that he contemplates holding a sale of his stock soon and will move to Edmonton. Mr. Macdonald and wife are highly respected and very agreeable people, and we are sorry to learn of their intended departure.

T. A. Iddings is attending the L.I.D. convention at Calgary this week, having been sent as a delegate from this district.

Miss Florence Cumberland, of Wittenberg, is spending a few days with Miss Marie Coverdale.

Owing to irregularities at election in Division No. 3, District No. 430, the election has been declared void, and notices are out calling for nominations for another election.

Ian Macdonald has billed his sale for March 17th.

The condition of both Mrs. Langmuir and Mrs. Adams remain about the same as last week. Dr. Baker, of Bentley, paid a professional visit to each of them Sunday.

Glenn A. Childs and Miss Alma L. Bunch were joined in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Bunch, by Rev. Mitten, at high noon Tuesday, March 3rd, in the presence of about 45 invited guests. The bride was attired in a navy blue silk, and her sister, Miss Gertie, was bridesmaid, while Quincy Childs, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony a splendid wedding dinner was served. After several hours spent in social chat, the guests departed, leaving behind them as a token of the esteem in which these young people are held many useful and valuable presents. For the present they will live with the groom's parents. We join with their many friends in extending hearty good wishes.

Lochinvar News

About 35 people assembled at A. W. Archibald's last Saturday evening to hear a lecture on "Community Life or Socialism" by Miss Mushkat, of the Calgary schools. The audience listened with rapt attention for about an hour, and had but one complaint the lecture was too short.

I will not attempt to give even a synopsis of the address, but the speaker was logical and convincing. Light refreshments were served and we dispersed, feeling that we would like to hear a course of lectures on this intensely interesting subject which is engaging the attention of the nations today and is already being introduced into our universities, and no doubt ere long will be embodied in our school studies. A collection of $3.50 was taken, which was supplemented the next morning by $6.50, making a total of $12.00. The Misses Archibald were home the week-end and were privileged in hearing the lecture. These ladies visited our school on Monday. This school is in a good healthy state, under the tutelage of Dr. De Gallant, who is energetic and painstaking.

A. W. Ogilvie has recently purchased from Mr. Edwards, of Iowalta, a purebred Percheron stallion, 3 years old, and weighs 1,700 lbs. Our farmers now have a good opportunity of improving their stock. This is a handsome horse, and it is difficult to fault him. This enterprise is commendable.

Brooksley News

Brooksley Siding is destined to be one of the busiest country towns in this section. We are now assured of a hardware and implement store. Mr. C. L. Gruwell, late from Nebraska, and Mr. C. A. Bean, of Clive, were looking the neighborhood over last Thursday and Friday, and were very favorably impressed with the possibilities of this point. On leaving they assured us that they will be running the above business in the course of a month or so.

Another town lot was sold last week.

As soon as matters can be adjusted, there is no question but that there will be large quantities of feed produce and vegetables shipped to the west. The advantage of this point with the splendid market which we will have soon is commencing to be apparent to a few of the farmers who are supporting this point in every way possible, even at a sacrifice.

The Brooksley post office has been given to Mr. J. Davis. The distance between Mr. Davis and our new town is about six miles.

Some fifty or more families are impatiently waiting for the post office at the Siding, which surely won't be long. We hope the name problem will be adjusted all right.

The U.F.A. entertainment held at Jones Valley school house was very successful. Nearly 50 admission fees were received.

Mr. Stanley expects to be moved onto the townsite with store and family inside of a month. If he is, there will be some hustling.

They are starting a Sunday school at Brookfield school house. It is to be held at 10.30 a. m. every Sunday. It is especially desirable that it should start off with a large attendance.

Watch for the date of Wm. Barnes' Purebred Berkshire Hog Sale. Col. Stewart will call this sale. (M11-1c)

Those who were not at the last meeting of the U. F. A. missed a treat, as it was one of the best meetings that has been held.

There will be a special meeting of the Lakeside U. F. A. held in the Central school house on Thursday, March 19, at 8 p.m. There will be several addresses on topics of vital interest to the farmer. The cafeteria plan of boarding, which proved so satisfactory during the conference, was discussed at the recent meeting of the Academy Board. The members expressed themselves as favoring a change from the present American plan, to either cafeteria or European, some time in the future.

The Board also considered the advisability of forming a Russian department, and it is posto secure a teacher in that language for the next school year, to commence October 14, 1914. It was also voted to purchase additional implements for the farm.

The action called upon all workers to rally to the support of the temperance cause, and for the churches to be formed into working bands for the purpose of widely disseminating temperance literature.

Our long-looked-for Treatment Rooms are now ready for the use of the school family, as well as for others who may desire to come. Equipment is in place for such treatments as fomentations, packs, massage, sprays, various baths, and Faradic electricity.

Miss Della Burroway, late of India, gave a very interesting address on missionary work in that country. Illustrating by her own experience, she explained the many obstacles in the way of the missionary, chief of which she showed to be the caste system. She also pointed out some of the different duties a missionary is called upon to perform, and strongly advised prospective missionaries to India to have a good general knowledge, and especially some training along medical lines.

The second semester finds Pearl McDowell, a student of last year, enrolled again.

Seventeen candidates were baptized in Lake Barnett by Pastor Humann last Sabbath. The services were witnessed by a large company of students and residents from Rosedale.

The meeting held Saturday evening at the close of the Union Conference was a striking variation from the usual order. It was designed to give an insight into existing conditions as regards language in our Western Canadian Union. The program consisted of songs, readings and addresses in seventeen different languages, none of which were understood by all present, except the first and last songs, which were sung by all. Songs were rendered in German, Russian, Norwegian and Swedish, and one song was sung in three languages —Bohemia, Servian and Roumanian. The 23rd Psalm was read in Finnish, Lettish, Esthonian, Hungarian, Spanish, Danish, Norwegian, Scotch dialects, Bohemian, Servian, and other readings were given in French and Polish. Addresses were given in Spanish and Servian. After each of these selections, a call was made for those who understood the language as rendered. The numbers varied from 100 for the German to one each for Finnish, Esthonian and Russian. The evening was altogether interesting and profitable. With the recent enrollment of Bessie Varchumnika, of Edmonton, we can add the Ruthenian language to the above list.

Clive News

R. T. Longstreet returned Tuesday from his five week's trip through the State of Washington. He visited Seattle, Tacoma and other places.

On March 1st A. A. Smith, for many years caterer to the lumber trade of Clive and district, turned over his business to Messrs. Scorah and Bickle, two well-known young men of Clive. We bespeak from these energetic citizens the support that has in the past been accorded the late proprietor, and if courtesy counts with a business, the success of the new firm is assured. We are pleased to state that Mr. Smith will still reside in Clive and enter some other line of business.

We are always made to feel sad in the loss of a friend. J. R. Shaw, who conducted a general store here for three years, has moved his business to Didsbury. Mr. Shaw carried with him the good will of this community and our wishes for success.

Robert Ashe has taken over the Meat Market from Mr. Hance, who leaves shortly for his homestead west of Lacombe. Mr. Hance was held up ten days in Red Deer ere he succeeded in securing an audience with the caretaker of His Majesty's Lands Title Office. We are sorry to lose this estimable couple from Clive, but wish them every prosperity on the farm.

Messrs. Morton & Wickenburg are the new proprietors at the old Shaw stand. They will carry a complete and fresh line of general merchandise, and their motto will be "courtesy to all." We wish this young combination every prosperity.

The box social held recently by the hockey club was in every way a success and netted some $90. The company was entirely local, and the entertainment was voted one of the best vaudeville exhibitions ever held in town. At the sale of baskets prices ranged from three to six dollars.

TEARS.

When I consider life and its few years,
A wisp of fog betwixt us and the sun;
A call to battle, and the battle done
Ere the last echo dies within our ears;
A rose choked in the grass; an hour of fears;
The guests that past a darkening shore do hear;
The bursts of music down an unlistening street.
I wonder at the idleness of tears.
Ye old, old dead, and ye of yester night;
Chieftains and bards, and keepers of the sheep,
By every cup of sorrow that you had,
Loose me from tears; and make me see aright;
How each hath back what once he stayed to weep;
Homer his sight, David his little lad.

SIR GEORGE ROSS PASSES AWAY AFTER ILLNESS.

Toronto, March 7.—Sir George William Ross, senator of the Dominion of Canada, and formerly premier of the Province of Ontario, died today after an illness lasting several weeks. He was born in 1841.

By profession a lawyer, Sir George was known popularly as "The Father of the new Ontario" owing to activity in the development of that province. He was recognized as one of the best public speakers in the Dominion. He was strongly in favor of reciprocity trade relations with the United States, and a resolution introduced by him in 1882 gave birth to the movement for reciprocity. He was called to the senate of Canada in 1907, and was knighted by King George in 1910. Sir George was a prolific writer on educational subjects, temperance and contemporary history.

THE CHANGE IN NEW YORK CITY IN FIFTEEN YEARS

The opinion is widely held that Tammany is doomed as a political force in New York. The Saturday Evening Post this week publishes a very readable article dealing with the history and prospects of the organization, while Burton J. Hendricks in McClure's makes a very close analysis of what is responsible for its changed fortunes.

He puts it down to the Jews, of whom a million have entered the city since 1898. As they have filled up the tenements, the social and political headquarters of these have ceased to be the saloon, where Tammany always got in its fine work in the old days.

The children of the Jews are said to be the keenest pupils in the public schools. The Jewish districts contain the libraries that circulate the largest percentage of solid literature. Perhaps the most remarkable educational achievement in New York is that of Irving high school, and almost all of the 6,000 girls attending it are Jewesses. The society for debating is the East Side's favorite resort. The Jewish citizens are interested in budgets, municipal ownership, reform of the tenement and subways. Measures instead of men are their concern. They are independents and radicals in political theory. The shrewdest politicians can not forecast their course in elections.

All of this is very interesting in view of the alarm that this immigration gave rise to in many quarters and the ridicule which supposed humorists have cast upon the Jewish people. It makes one wonder whether it is after all an advantage to have a population composed mainly of those of English-speaking antecedents.

A recent census return makes a surprising revelation of how vast a change in the character of the chief city of this continent has been effected.

The classification is based on the languages spoken before immigration, but the so-called second generation of foreign stock is included with the first. The English or Celtic division, including Irish, Scotch and Welsh, numbered almost a million; the Yiddish or Hebrew, 861,980; the German, 841,889; the Italian, 549,444, and the Polish, 116,161. In Manhattan Borough the total for the Yiddish or Hebrew exceeds that of the English and Celtic, amounting to 533,444, against 469,626, or 24 against 21 per cent. German was the mother tongue of 337,403, or 15 per cent. In the Bronx Germany was far in the lead, with 27 per cent.; English and Celtic next, with 21 per cent.; Yiddish and Hebrew, 14 per cent. In Queens, Germany is in the forefront, with 34 per cent. Only in the boroughs of Brooklyn and Richmond do the English and Celtic rank first.

This same process of change is going on in Canada. Only lately has it been taken careful note of in the United States. We have hardly considered the effects on our own national life. Appalling as the problems resulting from the mixture of races appear to be on first thought, Tammany's experience goes to show that there is no need for blank pessimism as to the situation that is being created.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, a lecture on "Shakespeare" will be given by Rev. Sir W. Dyde, D.D., of Edmonton, on Friday evening, March 20th, at 8 o'clock, in the Presbyterian Church. Crowd the church if you want to hear something good. Admission 25c. More particulars later. (M11-2p)

HEARERS THRILLED BY STORY OF WOMAN

Ottawa, March 7.—The great Social Service Congress of Canada was thrilled Wednesday afternoon by a woman, as not even the speeches of the leaders of Canada's national life and the thoughts and eloquence of the eminent speakers who preceded her, at the previous sessions, succeeded in doing. It was during the consideration of commercialized vice and the white slave traffic.

The speaker, who for a quarter of an hour made the big audience of men sit astounded, women and girls frequently break into exclamations and tears, was Miss Marie Christine Katte, of Toronto, general supervisor of redemptive work for girls in the Presbyterian Church. Garbed in the quiet dark blue uniform indicative of her calling, she was an unfamiliar figure to perhaps the great majority of the crowd, but when she sat down after telling story, she was greeted with deafening applause, and all eyes were on the reserved little woman who had delivered such a big message.

With a distinctly French accent and sometimes in her emotion forced to stop to recall her English, she commanded an impressive silence. It was not her eloquence but the appeal of a woman whose soul went out to the scarlet sisterhood, that got the attention.

"Under the shadow of the towers of parliament in your beautiful City of Ottawa," she said, "I went out after taking up my work and in a house found eighteen young girls, the youngest sixteen. Next door I found five in a house. I tried to talk to them, to find out about them, but they told me they were not supposed to talk, and although I did find out, I was warned not to say anything, but I did say something.

"I went out to British Columbia and in places supposed to be hotels, I found girls and women. Their names were worked in glittering brass on the steps and there were few windows in the place. I then went into the grand mountains of which Canadians are so proud, and found red light districts.

"I took a child of ten years by the hand and asked her what she aimed to be when she grew up. She said she wanted to be a school teacher, but as it was so awfully hard to do she thought she would like to be one of the women living in those houses. She told me it was so easy to become one and have your name changed. She longed for their beautiful dresses and automobile rides every day.

"This was the ideal of a Canadian girl of ten years. A girl of the future under the great Union Jack and in this wonderful land of the maple leaf.

"I visited the prisons and penitentiaries and found three youths and young girls who might have been fine citizens but who despaired of the future.

"Many point with pride to our gold which is buried in the mountains and money is given to protect natural resources, but what is given to protect the young Scotch girl who comes to our shores?

"I would suggest that no young girl be brought to Canada without proper protection. There is a law for those girls who are seduced, but there is no law to protect those domestic servants who are wronged. They have no protection against their employers, who are sometimes brutes.

"Oh, I think of this land which has been called good enough to be God's kingdom. I have stopped in the west and handled earth powdered with gold. But we want to save our girls as well as riches, and save them for the homes of Canada.

"I feel sorry when I go into houses that there is no redemption for the inmates, but my heart goes out to them and I say: 'I want and I will get them.' In the last five years I have had the pleasure of taking five hundred of these girls and women in my arms with that feeling of a woman.

"You tell me you are Christians. Have you seen Christ more man than when He said to the woman 'Go and sin no more?'

"The Presbyterian Church has opened nine homes recently. We treat three classes in these, including the feeble-minded, but we hope soon to have homes for the feeble-minded. Then there is the class of girls not so far gone.

"I wish I could take you into those homes. In the Winnipeg Rescue Home there is a mother of thirteen years; in others mothers of fifteen, sixteen years and up. Have you ever thought what the world means to those women abandoned by men?"

CONDITION OF WESTERN FARMERS.

The professional agitators in the west are very unreasonable men. Here is an extract from an editorial in a recent issue of the Grain Growers' Guide newspaper:

"There is no English-speaking country in the world where the farmers are so heavily burdened as in Western Canada. The fact that they got a large portion of their land free leads outsiders to feel that the western farmers should be rich. Yet nearly all the farmers are mortgaged and are bound to remain mortgaged until something is done for their relief. Even free land has been to many of them an expensive gift, and they have found it impossible to live upon it. It is of no use to provide free land and then burden the people to such a degree that its benefit is entirely offset."

It is tolerably clear that if the west were a land of misery and suffering, as is here depicted, there would have been a large emigration of settlers to the American side of the line. Instead of that, as everyone knows, there has been an immense immigration from the neighboring States to the west, and they are still coming. The Americans were not brought here under false pretenses. They visited the country, travelled it from end to end, ascertained the conditions of life and production, compared them with those under which they had lived, and then pulled up stakes and came to Canada in trainloads, bringing with them their worldly possessions. Does this signify anything?

THE EVANTUREL DISCLOSURE.

The reports that appear in the Ontario papers now arriving of the recent incident in the legislature of that province, leave no doubt as to its dramatic character. Mr. Evanturel had delivered a speech accusing the government of being in league with the liquor interests. His Liberal colleagues applauded him warmly. But as soon as he took his seat the letter was read in which he had offered his services to the Hotelkeepers' Association for $10,000.

"I am prepared," he wrote, "for that salary to be the defender of the association and to introduce to the government measures to restrict the liquor traffic."

No wonder that Mr. Evanturel's leader immediately took a step that is quite unique in the history of Canadian politics and repudiated him as a follower. But this cannot avoid the discredit that must result to the whole Liberal cause in the province. One disaster has followed another ever since Mr. Rowell launched out in his banish-the-bar policy, and this latest serves as a crushing culmination.

The Whitney government has not gone as far as some of the advocates of temperance legislation have wished. But the strict enforcement which it has given to the existing law is recognized by all thinking men as a most important step in advance. The Evanturel affair will serve to impress this and to convince even those who wish for more restrictive measures that it is better to support those on whose honesty to administer properly the law as it stands they can bank so strongly than to take chances with others who merely promise more.

OF IMPORTANCE IN LAND DEALS.

An important decision regarding land deals has been handed down by Mr. Justice Walsh in the Supreme Court at Calgary in a recent case which came before him for decision. The following are the particulars as set forth by the Calgary News-Telegram:

"An estate was purchased by certain parties at a stipulated price on representations made by a Calgary real estate firm, but after the whole of the payments, exceeding $2,000, had been made, the parties discovered that the property had been misrepresented, and entered suit to recover the full amount that had been paid for it. In the end judgment was given against the previous owners for the amount claimed, plus five per cent. interest on the capital invested, and the defendants were ordered to pay the costs of the action."

This is a clear case of the law stepping in to protect the bird from the net of the fowler.

Mrs. Agnes Flynn, the woman who killed her child and then killed her husband during the latter part of last year at the town of Coronation, was committed to the insane asylum at Ponoka. This is the result of the trial which was started at Red Deer on Tuesday morning by Mr. Justice Beck. The first witness had just started to give evidence when the prisoner became sick and then fainted. After several doctors and medical men had examined the woman they pronounced her insane and an order for her committal to the asylum was granted by the judge.

TWO CRITICISMS OF THE SCHOOLS.

Dr. Maria Montessori, whose methods of teaching children have attracted widespread notice and comment in the past couple of years, has an article of great interest to everyone in "Teacher's World," an English publication. Her subject is the vast difference between the social position of the doctor who attends to the ailments of children and the teacher who has the mind of the child in charge. The social difference, she declares, is due to science, which is lacking in most methods of education.

Her method of education, she continues, is not yet a science, but it is the method for a science, which may be developed into a science, transforming the school and the teacher—and perhaps reinforcing the social life of society.

"That beautiful thriving body of the child who has grown in perfect hygiene awaits," says Dr. Montessori, "the awakening of the superb soul which has hitherto lain slumbering within. If the body of the child needed fresh air and the power to move freely for its proper development—as also the soul needs liberty. And when science has entered the school, proclaiming spiritual liberty for all men, then, perhaps, the word 'progress,' which has come to us till now from science, will change into the word 'ascension.'"

One other statement regarding the schools we have noticed recently. It comes from Vermont, where the school system is very much like Canada's, and is the report of a "school survey," made by men of unquestioned standing. The summary of their report is in the following sentences:

"It is not too much to say that not alone in Vermont, but throughout our states, in the country-side schools, the children are put through the grades under a regime which gives them little self-discipline, dulls their minds with artificial repetitions and routine tasks, and so far as it educates them at all, educates them away from the life in which they have grown up. Any form of school that weakens the child's interest in the life of his community, is deficient in the elemental requisite of the school as an agency of civilization. Something is radically wrong with a school in an agricultural community that develops motormen, stenographers and typewriters, and fails to develop farmers, dairymen and gardeners. A course of study prepared with a view of correcting this condition is the first step in reform."

The criticism in regard to the city schools is along much similar lines.

Thus the schools are criticized from two standpoints. Dr. Montessori criticizes from the ideal standpoint, a commission of practical men criticizes from the practical standpoint.

For fathers and mothers the subject is one of vital importance, but it is one in which most parents take comparatively little interest. Children are sent to school and the supposition is that there they get this knowledge they should be acquiring. If they take the trouble to investigate this pleasant assumption they will find they are sadly mistaken. Ask a child in the evening what he has been taught during the day, and generally it will be found that he has received a little knowledge of general worth, a little knowledge which will go toward the development of the soul, and a great deal of teaching which in the form it is given to him is of no value and which he has not been taught to assimilate for himself.

One of the most foolish features of the educational system is that added comparatively recently, the kindergarten class in which the youngest children are made to draw pictures and model clay and given other like occupations with the idea of teaching them school discipline so that in future years they may sit quietly and memorize as rapidly as possible the things they are taught. The waste of the year in which their minds could be trained to digest and assimilate knowledge taught them is foolish—and almost criminal. So much the Montessori method has taught the world.

Fathers and mothers should be thinking of these things and using their influence toward securing for their children the education they want in place of the education tradition prescribes.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE NATURAL RESOURCES.

The debate in parliament on the handing over of the natural resources to the provinces by the Dominion Government, as promised by Mr. Borden, helped considerably to clear the air and to show up some of the inconsistencies of the opposition when in as compared with when out of office.

When Mr. Borden undertook to hand over to the Prairie Provinces their natural resources, it was understood that this concession would be in lieu of the annual Dominion subsidy which these provinces are receiving in the absence of controlling their own resources. That was in 1911. But a short time ago the premiers of Alberta and Saskatchewan changed their attitude, by demanding that these provinces shall not only possess their own natural resources, but continue to receive the subsidy which hitherto has taken the place of controlling these resources. This has not only created a new condition of affairs which was not anticipated by Mr. Borden, but it has rendered necessary a consideration of details which require time for reflection. This addendum to the original proposition is unreasonable and absurd. If the Prairie Provinces are to receive both natural resources and subsidy, the Maritime Provinces will demand similar treatment.

It must not be forgotten that it was the Liberals under Sir Wilfrid Laurier who refused to turn over to the Prairie Provinces on being made autonomous their natural resources, granting an annual subsidy in substitution, and not only the present leader of the opposition, but Mr. Lemieux, the then postmaster-general, defended this on the ground that these resources are the property of the whole Dominion, and to part with them would be both wise and inopportune. Senator Talbot, too, argued then that the practical man who desired the prosperity of the Dominion as a whole would rather have these resources controlled by federal administration. This was the view of the Liberal party in parliament, and it was carried out. Sir Wilfrid Laurier now favors the handing over to provincial control of the natural resources apart from land for settlement, but he is silent on the subject of adding to them the subsidy which took their place at his initiative.

If the matter had rested at the transference of the natural resources, the subject would readily have been settled; but this extra and unexpected demand has created complications which, while not killing the whole scheme, will have to be seriously considered before a final decision can be arrived at. Sir Wilfrid is apparently willing to drop this phase of the subject, but not so many of his party in general and the provincial legislatures in particular. Mr. Borden will fulfill his promise, but whether he will allow it to be supplemented by something he never contemplated is problematical.

Suffered 10 Months with Kidney Complaint. Gin Pills Cured.

Dunvegan, Inverness Co.

I am perfectly cured of Kidney complaint after using Gin Pills. Six doses after taking the first Pill I obtained relief, and now after three months I feel as well as ever.

I suffered ten months and the Physician attending me advised me to go to the Victoria Hospital at Halifax, as he could do nothing more for me. I may add that I used a great deal of medicine, and strictly followed my physician's directions regarding diet, etc., but without avail, until providentially I learned of your most excellent remedy. I am recommending Gin Pills.

From each shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten-pound sample. It is ground into flour. We bake bread from this flour. If this bread is high in quality and large in quantity we use the shipment of wheat from which it came. Otherwise, we sell it.

The baking quality of flour sold under this name is therefore an exact certainty. Buy and benefit!

A free supper will be given by the First Thursday Guild on Wednesday evening, March 18th, at 6 o'clock, after which a social evening will be indulged in. Everybody welcome; come and enjoy yourself.

Rev. Dr. Riddell, Principal of Alberta College, Edmonton, will lecture on "Socialism" in the Methodist Church, Bentley, Friday evening, March 13th, at 8 o'clock. James P. McPherson turned twelve well located lots in the McPherson addition last week, C. C. Miles being the purchaser.

Two business buildings were started last week, one a candy factory on the W. J. Grant lot, and one a blacksmith shop, gas engine and pump warehouse on the R. W. Birch lot. Both are well located, near the centre of the business section, and will be opened for business as soon as completed.

Fred H. Gregory and Wm. H. Payne, of Calgary, were Bentley visitors last week. Mr. Gregory purchased some acreage three years ago, and Mr. Payne purchased a few acres from James McPherson last week. They will both build and move their families up here this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Sambrook, of Gilby, visited at the C. F. Damron residence from Friday until Sunday.

Several from here attended the Lacombe-Calgary hockey game at Lacombe on Wednesday evening last. Messrs. Williams and Jas. McPherson and their wives going in with the auto.

Miss Grace Gibson, of the Edmonton city schools, came down on Friday afternoon and visited the Damron and Thorp homes, returning on Sunday to Edmonton.

The public sale at S. M. Burger's was a very successful affair, there being about three hundred lunches distributed. Everything brought fair prices.

There was a meeting of the L. D. Council at the Alexandra Hotel on Saturday last. These meetings are not very well advertised, and few know that they are coming.

The presentation of "What Happened to Jones" was the most successful affair ever put on by the Bentley Amateur Dramatic Society. The hall was well filled on Thursday night, and on Friday night was packed to the doors and several were turned away. People came from Wittenberg, Lacombe, and even from Edmonton. The dance following was well attended, the Jones Bros. furnishing the music, and everyone seemed to have a good time.

WARNING.

I wish to warn the boys and young men of this District who are in the habit of hooping up and attending the dances and entertainments at this place, with the intention of rowing things and having a good time, regardless of any law and order, and in this I think that I am supported by all of the business men and fair thinking persons of this place.

In the past year we have had locked doors pried open, show case glass broken, loud and indecent talk around in public places, and many things taken. On Friday night last a party of you took advantage of the broken show case, which one of yourselves broke a couple of weeks ago, and while the clerk was kept busy in another part of the store, took some fifty or sixty good cigars out of the case. Now I wish to say that nearly all of you who were in this deal are known to me, and at least three of you. We have evidence enough against you to bring you before a Justice, and while one of you have no relatives at this place, two of you have widowed mothers, whom we ha[illegible] greatest sympathy for, and who are having a hard time trying to bring up their boys as they should be. But we wish to call to your notice that we have withstood this as long as we can, and the next time that occurrence of this kind happen, we will push the case as far as we can, as such actions must stop.

A word to the wise is sufficient, and you will be wise to heed this warning.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES P. McPHERSON.

Rainy Creek News

E. H. Forster shipped one car of goods from Blackfalds to Killam last week.

A good many from Rainy Creek attended the play given by the Bentley Dramatic Society last week, and all pronounced it first class.

Mr. Syler and family, from Iowa, are now located on the S. M. Burger place. We welcome them to the community.

Quite a large crowd was in attendance at the monthly meeting of the Rainy Creek Ladies' Aid at the home of Mrs. B. J. Forster last Wednesday. After the business of the meeting was over Mrs. Stone, on behalf of the members, bid good-bye to Mrs. B. J. and Mrs. E. Forster and presented Mrs. Forster, sr., with a shopping bag as a friendly remembrance. Mrs. Forster, sr., was one of the charter members of the organization, which was organized some seven years ago. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Clarence Peterson, Wednesday, April 8, 1914.

The Rainy Creek Ladies' Aid will give an oyster supper at the Rainy Creek Church Friday evening, March 20, 1914.

Arbordale News

The Fairview Literary Society held their regular meeting last Saturday night, and a good crowd was out. The debate, "Resolved, That the Navies of the World be Abolished," was very interesting, and some very strong points for both sides were discussed. Mr. Butcher and Mr. Edwards were for the affirmative, Mr Eddie and Mr. Madden the negative. The affirmative won.

The result of the hockey match between Lacombe and the Vics of Calgary was watched for with considerable interest last Friday night by many of this district, and the score, although not what we should have liked it to be, was a surprise to us all. This gives Calgary the championship by the small margin of one goal. Our boys played a wonderful game, and although beaten went down fighting. However, Lacombe has a record this season that none of us should be ashamed to boast of, and we are not.

Considerable excitement was caused in this district last week when a horse and cutter dashed off down the road, the only occupant in the cutter being a lady. Little, if any, damage was done, and the horse finally slowed down himself. Watch the movies at the theatre shortly; you might recognize the lady.

The Fairview Literary Society will hold their next regular meeting on March 21st, at 8 o'clock. This will be the last meeting for this season, and a good program is being prepared. Refreshments and coffee will be served free, and a very sociable time is expected. Everybody come.

We are sorry to hear Miss Zella Zellie is not very well, but we sincerely hope she will be restored to good health again soon.

Geo. H. Brown was away last Thursday and Friday attending the annual Presbyterian meeting at Wetaskiwin.
